FACULTY OPERATING COMMITTEE

Around the middle of the first semester of the school year certain things came to light which made the future of Cedarville College look very dark. There was a question of being able to finish out the school year. A complete change in Administration placed upon the shoulders of a Faculty Operating Committee the burden of preparing for the fall which seemed inevitable or a program with greatly reduced objectives.

This committee found itself with many problems. There was the problem of evaluating oral agreements as well as many disciplinary and academic problems brought on by the uncertainty of the situation. The efficiency displayed in meeting and solving these problems proved very well that a faculty can run itself and also handle the educational and disciplinary phases of college life.

Their democratic rather than dictatorial manner of handling school affairs should be an example to others since the "esprit de corps" thus generated prevented the let down in the last few months which usually accompanies the closing of a college.

In summary, "Orchids" to the Operating Committee for a job well done.

TRIBUTE

To many of her alumni, Cedarville College is Dr. Jurkat and Dr. Jurkat is Cedarville College. In their memories - and this will sometime be as true of today's undergraduates as it now is of those long since departed - it will be Dr. Jurkat who comes to the mind's eye, familiar "in his habit as he lives" in the hall of Old Main, in his room among his books, behind his desk with a student beside him.

Dr. Jurkat has taught for what seems to the young a lifetime, but it is not mere length of service which makes him so loved and respected by succeeding college generations. A man of great learning, he wears his erudition lightly and wittily. His mischievous sense of humor is never in abeyance, but lightens the most stumbling recitation and the dullest bulletin board. And though the substance of his jests may be forgotten in time, the manner of them will be remembered; the gravity of their utterance, the solemnity with which a response is awaited, the delighted laughter when the point is taken, or the pitying look when a pun goes unrecognized.

The depth of his knowledge is unfathomed, and not one has reached to the end of the width of it. There are no fields where he is not at home, few subjects which he cannot teach and has not taught at one time or another. For that reason also, and not only because he has been here so long, he knows more alumni than anyone else at Cedarville.

Most important of all - for although a Calvinist, Dr. Jurkat does not presume to distinguish the elect from among his students - a genuine and unfailing kindness is the well-spring of his being. On an assumed basis of mutual liking he meets his students and the liking comes, and a friendship develops. He has forgotten no one whom he has taught last year or fifty years ago, but can remember a name, trace a career, analyze a character or an intellect and - above all - when occasion arises, he can recognize a face, seen again on the campus after however long an interval. It is no wonder that it is he whom old students ask about first, or seek out, in the northwestern corner room that has been his for 58 years.

So: from the Old Cedarville to Dr. Jurkat - regret at the parting, good fortune the rest of your days. -

Ave atque vale - abituri salutamus!

OUR TRUSTEES IN A PERIOD OF TRANSITION

In November 1952, our board of Trustees awoke to the sad fact that our financial resources had almost obliterated the value of our endowment and then was a question as to whether or not we could open for the remainder of the 1952-53 college year.

Full authority to explore all possibilities for continued operation was vested in the operating committee, consisting of Mr. Rankin Mc Millan, Mr. J. Earl Mc Clellan, Mr. Dallas C. Marshall, Mr. Leo Deutsch, and Mr. Harold D. Neill. It was decided that the best course was to liquidate the endowment and pay all debts and then operate the remainder of the college year. In the meantime efforts would be made to secure a Church group to take over the remainder of the operating obligations and the operation of the college, as of June 2, 1953.

The major responsibility for making the contacts fell on the shoulders of Mr. Mc Clellan and Mr. Mc Millan. There were times of high hopes with periods when hope wavered badly. Then came the offer from the trustees of the Baptist Bible Institute, of Cleveland, to take over the obligations of Cedarville College, and continue to operate it under the same name, as an institute of higher learning.

The change of membership of the board of trustees was consummated on April 4, 1953 and we look forward to an expanding college under the new leadership. Much credit must be given Mr. Mc Clellan and Mr. Mc Millan for their time and effort, along with their abiding faith that the power that has controlled the destiny of our college would come through with a satisfactory solution to the problem. Certainly we have reason to believe that their faith shall be amply rewarded in the growth of Cedarville College, in the years ahead.

SCIENCE STUDENTS TURN MOUNTAIN GOATS BY A DAMSITE

Carlotta Sayer

The Physical Science classes journeyed to Clifton Gorge recently to observe rock formations. Not only did they see lots of rocks, but they also climbed a few. Some students wondered if the obstacle course which Mr. Shaw picked out wasn't to test the brawn as well as the brains. One male student remarked that Daniel Boone had traveled along this gorge to which comment a female "fellow traveler" retorted, "Yeah, but he didn't have his wife along!"

The Gorge is a wonderful place to study rock formations, and also to prove whether or not you are any relation to a mountain goat.

The same classes' visit to the falls and mill at Clifton was not so strenuous. As a result of the recent rains, plenty of water was going over the historic dam. No one knows just how old the dam is. The mill, which still is in operation, at one time was a large industry in the village of Clifton.

Organizations

STUDENT COUNCIL

M. McClure, Nancy Guilfoyl, R. Burnett. SEATED: James Luttrell, President.

The Student Council this year has been very active in many ways. Numerous difficult problems resulted from the drastic changes which came about during the school year. The president, James Luttrell, who now teaches at Port William High School is to be especially commended for his hard work. It is hoped that this experience will be beneficial in years to come.

Sigma Tau Phi

The Sigma Tau Phi Sorority which is only two years old now has eleven charter members. During this year the Sorority has sponsored a Christmas Dance, St. Patrick's Day Dance and a trip to the Ohio Caverns in addition to many informal picnics and parties.

Officers are:

President . . . Martha Lough
 Secretary . . . Nancy Guilfoyle

CHI MU DELTA

The Chi Mu Delta Fraternity was founded in September of 1941 by a group of ten men students who were interested in forming a unit. It was organized as an independent fraternity and has maintained that status to the present time.

At its first meeting Layden Wilson of Apollo, Pennsylvania was chosen to be the first president. The constitution was written and arranged the same year by Henry Campbell and William Meahl. The pledge was written by Robert Allen. The colors chosen were blue, white and gold and the emblem is a shield with the Greek symbols XM on it with the letters running from the lower right to the upper left corners. In the upper right corner is a crossed sword and broad axe and a torch is in the lower left corner. The thoroughness of that first group is shown by the fact that all these details remain as originally written.

In recent years the Chi Mu Delta has given a Halloween Carnival and Cedar Day Dance annually as well as other informal activities. At the present time the Fraternity has fourteen members. OFFICERS: President, Ed Kurs; Vice-President, Rich Syrek; Secretary, Roger Mann; Treasurer, Bill Siebert; Sgt. at Arms, Wayne Joyce.

The Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity is a national fraternity which was established at the Virginia Military Institute in September, 1867. It is now composed of fifty chapters reaching from British Alpha in London to Tasmania Alpha in Australia.

Ohio, West Virginia and Illinois have the most chapters per state. The local chapter was chartered on this campus in the spring of 1948. A number of dances and social activities have been sponsored during the year.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association was formed by the combination of the YMCA and the YWCA. Roger Bunnell served as President this year and Prof. Jansen served as the faculty advisor.

The purpose of the SCA is to give every young man and woman at Cedarville College an opportunity for fellowship and service. Group discussions to deal with the problems of college students and religion were scheduled. The group sponsored a Hallowe'en party and served refreshments after bonfire pep rallies.

The SCA was in charge of a chapel late in the school year featuring group singing and readings by members.

281933 VARSITY "C"

The Varsity "C" Club at Cedarville College has not been active this year but it has been traditionally one of the better organizations on the campus. To be eligible for membership a boy must have earned a letter in at least one of the major sports at Cedarville College. It has about forty members at the present time.

There was no election of officers for the year and no functions of any kind were attempted. This organization sponsored the fall homecoming dance annually until this year when lack of interest caused the plans to be abandoned. With the new administration the future of this group is in doubt.

CEDARS

The "Whispering Cedars" is Cedarville College's newspaper. It is published bi-monthly by students and its purpose is to keep its readers informed of College events and to present opinions of the students regarding issues of local and national interest.

Mr. Stelling has been faculty advisor for the past two years and is the man most responsible for its publication. Without his guidance and efforts the paper could never have attained the small measure of success it did.

THE

The Cedrus Staff of 1953 was a hard working staff with much to do in very little time. The staff was organized late and a contract for the book was not let until February making fall delivery necessary. Criticism of this late delivery could only come from individuals too diffident to help and thus realize the difficulties of composing a book in so short a time.

Credit should go to the editor for his hard work in organizing a staff from reluctant students and editing hurriedly written articles.

The advertising manager broke all previous records for selling ads. Almost eight hundred dollars worth of ads were sold in the short time allotted, paying for over half of the costs of the book.

Thanks should also go to Dolores for her help in photography and page organization and to Bill Fife for help in the sports section. Julia's help in taking informal pictures also helped this a student's book.

CEDARVILLE 13 ALMA 6

Cedarville College opened its 1952 football season on a happy note with a 13-6 victory over a heavily favored Alma College eleven. It was the opening game for both teams and marked the debut of Cedarville coach Byron Hollinger. Perhaps inspired by the perfect football weather, Cedarville scored first early in the second period on a 21 yard pass play from Jake Hulshult to Joe McGuire. Rich Syrek converted and it was 7-0.

An inspired Alma team returned in the second half to take the opening kick-off and march 75 yards for their only score. The Yellowjackets blocked the extra point attempt and held a 7-6 lead. A break gave the 'Jackets their final score as Babe Calhoun intercepted an Alma pass on his own 40 yard line. On the first play Hulshult passed to Syrek on a play covering 60 yards to end the scoring and give Cedarville a 13-6 victory.

BLUFFTON 38 CEDARVILLE 12

The Yellowjackets traveled to Bluffton for their first away game of the year and ran into a buzzsaw in the form of Charlie Spencer. Playing his last game before entering the army he inspired his mates to heights they were not to reach again all year. The keynote of the evening came early in the first quarter after Cedarville failed to pick up the necessary yardage after the opening kick-off and was forced to kick. On the first play from scrimmage the Beaver halfback ran from his own 40 yard line to the Cedarville 5 before he was stopped. On the next play Bluffton scored, Spencer converted, and Bluffton lead 7-0.

Cedarville came right back on the kick-off and scored on a 24 yard run by Wayne Joyce. The extra point try was blocked and it was 7-6. Bluffton scored again, as did Cedarville on a 2 yard run by Hulshult and the score stood 13-12. From that point on Cedarville was never in the game as Bluffton racked up 25 more points without a reply from the Yellowjackets.

OHIO NORTHERN 21 CEDARVILLE 14

Ohio Northern invaded Cedarville on October 11 and won a hard fought victory from the Yellowjackets. Action came quickly as the Polar Bears marched to a 6 point lead on the opening kick-off. Cedarville came back in the second period as Wayne Joyce returned a punt 59 yards to the Northern 21 yard line. Wright then culminated the drive as he scored on a short plunge. Syrek converted and Cedarville led 7-6. But again Ohio Northern came back to score on the ensuing kick-off and regain the lead by a 12-7 score as they missed the conversion attempt. This lead was increased to 14-7 late in the period as the Bears gained a safety at the expense of the Yellowjackets.

The second half was a seesaw affair in which many drives were halted just short of the goal lines. Northern managed another score in the third period to increase the lead to 21-7. After many threats Cedarville scored its final points on a 35 yard pass play from Hulshult to Syrek. Syrek converted to make the final score Ohio Northern 21, Cedarville 14.

CEDARVILLE 20 ASHLAND 6

In a homecoming game featured by long runs and spectacular plays Cedarville took a 20-6 win over Ashland College. The Yellowjackets got underway on a 78 yard touch-down run by Wayne Joyce midway through the first quarter. Carl Thomas continued the Cedarville scoring in the second period as he went 13 yards for a score. Syrek converted after both scores and Cedarville held a 14-0 lead. Ashland got it's only score in this period on a 10 yard pass play to make the score 14-6 at halftime.

The only scoring of the second half came in the fourth quarter when Cedarville's Bill Dinsmore scored on a short plunge to provide the final margin of victory as the conversion was missed.

The victory evened Cedarville's season record at 2-2 and gave them their first Mid-Ohio conference win after two straight losses.

Homecoming activities were climaxed with a dance in the gymnasium in the evening during which the homecoming queen and her attendants were honored guests.

FINDLAY 26 CEDARVILLE 19

Cedarville traveled to Findlay for a game with the undefeated Oilers and almost pulled the upset of the season. Only their own inability to hold onto the ball kept them from the victory. Six times the Yellowjackets fumbled and four times Findlay came out with the ball and turned three of these into scores.

With but four minutes left to halftime the score was 0-0 when the Oilers recovered a fumble and turned it into a score. After the kick-off Cedarville again fumbled and again Findlay scored. Cedarville took the next kick-off and on the first play Hulshult passed to Syrek for 65 yards to the Findlay 2 yard line. Hulshult then plunged for the score to make it Findlay 13, Cedarville 6 at halftime.

In the third period Findlay scored again only to have the 'Jackets' Charlie Rivers take the kick-off, fake a handoff to Joyce, and ramble 95 yards for the touchdown to bring the score back to 20-13. However Findlay came back to score and go ahead again 26-13. Cedarville scored it's final points when Lincoln Moneace, who ripped off huge chunks of yardage all afternoon, skirted Findlay's end, broke into the open and went 79 yards for the score making it Findlay 26 Cedarville 19.

CEDARVILLE 20 ROSE POLY 7

Cedarville showed power that had been potential all season as it downed Rose Poly in a game that was all theirs despite the fact that Poly tied the score early in the second half. After a scoreless first period Cedarville scored on the first play of the second as Hulshult plunged over. The score was set up on a pass from Syrek to Jim Adams who made a spectacular catch for a 32 yard gain. The scoring play followed and at halftime it was Cedarville 7-0 as Syrek converted.

Rose Poly came out in the second half to score on a 35 yard pass play to bring the count to 7-7. Cedarville received the kick-off and marched 65 yards to regain the lead. Syrek covered the final 5 yards and then converted to restore the seven point lead at 14-7. The Jacket regulars scored again before turning the chores over to the reserves as defensive halfback Joe McGuire intercepted a pass on the Poly 40 yard line. In two plays Syrek covered the final 40 yards for his second touchdown to climax his most successful afternoon of the season and a Cedarville lead of 20-7. Syrek gained 173 yards in 17 carries, passed once for 32 yards, caught two passes for 29 yards and averaged 38.6 yards for five punts.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN 27 CEDARVILLE 19

A 19-13 halftime lead proved inadequate as the Northern Michigan gridders banged across for a pair of touchdowns in the third period to gain a lead they never lost.

Cedarville's Larry Wright counted in the second period after both teams had scored single counters in the opening period. Cedarville's first period score came as a result of a 50 yard pass play from Wright to Syrek who then plunged over for the score from the one. Northern tied the score shortly after but Cedarville regained the lead on Wright's score. But again Northern came back to tie the score at 13-13 but Cedarville was not finished. A drive covering 78 yards was culminated by a three yard sneak by Wright to again put the Yellowjackets in the lead which they held at halftime, 19-13.

Northern Michigan kept pace with Cedarville in the first quarter but in the second period the Yellowjackets played alert ball to gain their halftime six-point advantage. An inspired Michigan crew came back the second half to completely dominate the play and gain their margin of victory in the third period.

DEFIANCE 20 CEDARVILLE 6

A flu-stricken Cedarville eleven traveled to Defiance for its final game of the season and suffered its fifth loss. Playing with its first three quarterbacks on the bench and an end calling plays the Yellowjackets just couldn't get an attack going as they battled their opposition to a scoreless tie for the first half. Both teams missed many opportunities to score and it seemed for a time that there would be no scoring.

In the second half the flu-bug and Defiance finally caught up with Cedarville, warming up to the task gradually as they scored once in the third period and twice in the final period. Jim Knopp had scored all three touchdowns for Defiance before Wayne Joyce finally managed to score for Cedarville on a 20 yard dash around end.

It was a disappointing finish for a team that had flashed signs of brilliance during the season as every opponent was given more than he had expected. It was a season of ups and downs highlighted by the near upset of undefeated Findlay and the homecoming victory over Ashland.

The Great Stall

BY BILL FORD

THE College had a holding down the an of Rio Grande College's fan "Bevo" Francis.

and when the Ohio teams met last month his five simply held the ball through most of one half, providing photographers with some of the most amazing "action" pictures taken the season's basketball season.

During the great stall when was thrown by irate fans.

ENQUIRER

When action resumed, "Bevo" gave this perfect exhibition of his famed twisting one-handed basket toss. He scored 38 of his team's winning 66 points. Cedarville had 29.

Newt Oliver, Rio coach, gave his team sweaters, keeping off stall's chill. Note card players right.

With clock running, "Bevo" signed autographs, sitting on chair under basket.

An enterprising radio announcer interviewed Francis on floor during the stall.

LIFE

The Customers A

THERE were basketball column, it seems, who the view taken here last Cedarville coach, was wrong possession basketball again Bevo Francis. A pile of desk and I am happy to pub of them kindly and some ra anonymous letters are not used here.

"Rio Grande Responsible"

FROM A SUPERINTENDENT of schools in a Miami Valley town:
"Dear Si: . . . I was one of the 7000 who paid his $1.50 to see a show at the Hobart arena. Frankly, I, too, was disappointed that I did not see the ball go through the hoop about 100 times. However, I believe that I can think more rationally than I did then. Who was profiting from the arena game? Who was supposed to put on the show? There is no question but that Rio Grande was responsible.

"We like basketball at our school and we hate the stall—almost like death itself—but we feel that the defensive team also has a responsibility. If Cedarville did not try the first 17 minutes, then neither did Rio Grande. Who put on the sweat shirts? Who sat on the floor? Who was interviewed? Who sat on the sidelines? (One of the most disgraceful sights I have ever seen.) It was Rio Grande—yet I have not yet seen a sports writer who criticized them. It's not popular to criticize them it seems, for they, in the course of a few weeks, have become national figures.

"I have never met the coach of Cedarville, but I feel you were a trifle unfair with him. Is it a disgrace to be a coach and still never make Ohio State's varsity? Is it a disgrace to go to a basketball game in a neat suit instead of an old jacket? Is it a disgrace to sit calmly on the bench instead of ranting up and down the floor, acting like a showman? If I had a son (I have a daughter), there is no question which of the two men I would desire to be his coach."

"How do we know Cedarville was not trying to win? Wouldn't it be easier for an inferior team to make up seven or 10 points in the last few minutes of playing time than to try to make 15 points? It has always been one of the fundamental premises of athletics that the shorter the playing time the better chance an inferior team has in defeating a better one. That is, by stalling and really cutting down the active time of actual playing, a poor team has an opportunity of winning. There are few good coaches who have not employed that method, but maybe not to the extent Cedarville tried this evening.

"I shall continue to read your articles but I wanted to express my personal controversial game."

COMMENT: The writer to be published; hence would like to modestly p

Cedar

"DEAR SI: . . . your blistering editorial of 21 January . . . of Cedarville college below the belt.

"I have often wondered what made sports writers like you such masters of all games that you speak with such positiveness. I, too, saw the game and witnessed an unruly crowd of fans that forgot to conduct themselves as Americans. In my opinion you should have taken the fans to task for such a demonstration of poor sportsmanship. Instead, you make statements about how one such as Floyd Rees can last in the coaching profession; by the same token what keeps you in your job?

"As I saw it, no rules of the game were broken by the Cedarville team, and you forgot to mention the Rio Grande team preferred not to come out to recover the ball either. You also failed to mention the deliberate fouling by the Rio Grande boys in the last quarter of the game to gain possession of the ball.

"I still believe the game should be played by and for the students; not for the fans.

"R. T. SAUER, M. D.,
"THIRD NATIONAL BLDG."

COMMENT: It is not unAmerican, doctor, for people to express their disapproval at sports events, or even in political campaigns. I may speak on occasion with positiveness, but this column has not hesitated to admit mistakes when wrong.

OBJECT OF JEERS, Cedarville player stubbornly hugs the ball as coins and balls of paper thrown by annoyed spectators land on court around him.

The Junior Varsity coached by Jim Wagner did very well for themselves in the won and lost column this year. They won ten games and lost only five against some of the top independent and junior varsity teams in this area.

The team won six straight games before many of its members were elevated to the varsity to replace men who left for various reasons. After losing eight men this way Coach Wagner had a rebuilding job to do and his success is reflected by the showing made during the remainder of the season. All things considered the performance of this group was above expectations.

CC TO GRADUATE 18 SENIORS

EDITORIAL

SO MUCH TO SO FEW

Faces may change but the world will go on. The Cedarville College scene will see a complete change in personnel for the next school year. With a new administration and a new curriculum this seems inevitable. With this in mind it is time to pay tribute to the responsible for the past.

57th annual baccalaureate to be held May 31

The graduation of 18 seniors will mark the closing of Cedarville College's sixtieth year as well as the end of this era.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE HOLDS ITS BACCALAUREATE RITES ON SUNDAY

Importance of religion in the solution of personal problems was stressed by Rev. James T. Jeremiah, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Dayton, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the merged Cedarville College and Baptist Bible Institute of Cleveland at Cedarville College's baccalaureate services in the Presbyterian Church there Sunday night.

There are 22 candidates for degrees at Cedarville's 57th annual commencement in the Presbyterian Church there Monday at 8 p. m. This will be the college's last commencement under that name. Although the merger was effected in March the transfer of the institute from Cleveland to Cedarville will not be completed until after commencement.

"Religion often is the solution to personal problems and one's religious experiences some time serve as a support in difficult times or when one is faced with an important decision," Rev. Mr. Jeremiah said.

Dr. Harold Kennedy, director of instruction at Cedarville, man of the College Faculty, presiding at the baccalaureate service. Rev. C. W. S. of Cedarville Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. F. A. Jurkat, member of Cedarville faculty, gave the invocation and benediction. Mr. McMillan of Cedarville was

Cedarville Faculty Is Dismissed

Cedarville College officials received word late Monday that the entire college faculty of 10 persons would be replaced at the end of the current school year with personnel from the Baptist Bible Institute of Cleveland, which will take over the school operation then. Members of the Cedarville faculty said Tuesday that they had been "unofficially" aware that they would be replaced for the last six weeks. One faculty member, Dr. F. A. Jurkat, a member of the Cedarville teaching staff the

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE HONORS FACULTY MEMBERS AT EXERCISES

Three faculty members at Cedarville College which loses its identity with the close of the current term were recognized at the college's 57th annual commencement in Cedarville Presbyterian Church Sunday night.

Dr. F. A. Jurkat, who has been with the school since 1895 and was termed "Mr. Cedarville College"; Mrs. Eloise Kling in charge of elementary education since 1936 and Miss Helen Santmyer, dean of women and professor of English since 1937.

Dr. Griffin, in his address to graduates, said: "There always are conflicts in whatever one decides to do. It may be between good and bad or good and good. The task of the teacher is a real job. By the example of living his own philosophy of life and religion, the student will be able to discriminate between what is good and what is bad for him."
